Special thanks also go to Stephen Saunders and Tom Easley of the Rocky Mountain Climate Organization (RMCO) who coordinated and supervised all activities associated with the CAP. Many thanks also to RMCO staff Sue Damour and Charlie Montgomery who also contributed their time, energy, and expertise.

The CAP also recognizes the many individuals who participated in the sector-based Policy Work Groups, all of whom are listed in Appendix B. Even though this report is intended to represent the results of the CAP's work, the group would be remiss if it did not recognize and express appreciation for the time and efforts spent in discussion, study, and deliberation of each fellow member of the group.

In addition, the CAP thanks the following organizations for donating their facilities for CAP and PWG meetings: the American Mountaineering Center, Denver Water, and the National Renewable Energy Laboratory.

Finally, the CAP would like thank the donor organizations that provided the financial support to CCS that allowed it to serve the CAP: the Arkay Foundation, Compton Foundation, Marisla Foundation, Rockefeller Brothers Fund, and the Surdna Foundation. The CAP also thanks the donors that provided the financial support to RMCO for the Colorado Climate Project: Denver Water, Rockefeller Brothers Fund, and Pat Stryker, principal sponsors; and BP America, the City of Aspen, and the Rockefeller Family Fund, sponsors.
